

MR. TODD'S MAJORITY

Complete Returns Show That
He Carried the County of Henrico by 195.

GRAND JURY'S PROBABLE ACT

Nothing Official Given Out, But an Investigation is Regarded as Very Probable.

With thoughts of the late campaign, absorbing in its interest and importance, put aside, the politicians of Henrico county, and many other citizens thereof, are now bending their brows in the direction of the grand jury, which meets four days hence for a regular session. The jury is talking, and it is utterly impossible to worm out anything that may be set up as a positive indication of what will happen when the jury meets. But there is much guessing, and much good guessing, and it is all to the one effect, to-wit: That an investigation of the election will ensue. Such signs as are discoverable clearly point to this, and it is evident, or nearly so, that another upheaval is imminent. And when the grand jury begins to upheave it will probably do so in a pretty lively fashion. There are three negroes on it, and it will be to the decided advantage of the Republican party to expose what is beneath the surface, if there happens to be anything there.

FIGURING ON IT.

Politicians on either of the two fighting sides were discussing the situation yesterday. A number of them gathered around the courthouse in the course of the day, and it seemed to be the unanimous opinion that the grand jury was priming itself for a deliverance when it meets. Chairman Ruffin and others were at the courthouse during the day, but he was questioned about the matter, but declared that if he made any expression at all it would have to come officially from the bench. Mr. Sands is equally uncommunicative. He was seen yesterday, but declared that he could not at this time discuss the matter. As stated, however, it is rumored that the judge will probably set aside the election.

The upshot of it all will probably be a charge to the grand jury next Monday, advising it to go into the election matter. The jury can, of course, act of its own motion if it sees fit, without such a charge, but it is probable that it will be given. The investigation will probably cover the entire election, and will not be confined to the Brauer-Hocher-Todd case. Whether or not the attorneys for Mr. Brauer will appear in court, and ask for an investigation of Mr. Todd, something like this is very probable, unless they are very sure that the court will act without this incentive. Major Sands said last night, however, that he was not in a position to talk for publication.

The presence of three negroes on the jury adds an interesting phase to the situation, and it was food for much comment yesterday. If an investigation cannot be able to show up anything to the discredit of the party, it will at least comfort and delight to the Republican camp. Moreover, the Barkdale law prescribes severe punishment for violators thereof, and if any candidate should be found guilty he would be ineligible for office. The negroes, therefore, would naturally stir up an investigation if possible, and keep it going in the hope of turning up something.

Additional reports received yesterday fix the majority of Mr. Todd at 194. His election is of course conceded now, and his friends, including Chairman Ruffin, and the other victorious county committeemen, are very jubilant of their success against heavy odds. Those on the other side are correspondingly sore. Mr. Brauer is still preserving an unbroken silence so far as any public utterance is concerned. It was stated positively yesterday by a close friend of Mr. Hocher, that he would be Mr. Todd's deputy.

The Board of Canvassers, composed of five judges, and a clerk, will meet to-day at the courthouse to canvass the returns. There might be some slight changes necessary in the estimates unofficially made, but the result will not be affected. A revised and complete list of the precinct returns is as follows:

REASON FOR SMALL VOTE

Manchester People Took no Interest in the Election.

(By Associated Press.)
Manchester Bureau Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

The chairman of the City Democratic Committee said last night that the small vote on Tuesday was due to the fact that neither Democrats or Republicans took any interest in the election.

"There has been some comment about the location of the booth," said the chairman, "and the City Committee has been censured. It should be known, however, that the polling places were not fixed by the City Committee, but by the Election Committee of the City Council."

Chairman French stated that personally he made every effort to bring out a big vote.

FUGITIVES ARRESTED.
Captain Lipscomb and Officer Smith yesterday arrested a negro named Joe Battle, of Rocky Mount, N. C., on charges of criminal libel upon a colored woman. He was taken up on information received and from description sent.

Battle said he left Rocky Mount because the people down there looked like they were getting ready to do him some harm. He had been held for the No. 4 Carolina officials.

Another fugitive arrested yesterday was Bettie Jones, alias Mattie Gray. She is wanted in Petersburg on the charge of having been in the company of a man in the disposing of furniture bought on the installment plan. Policeman Coleman came over and carried her back yesterday evening. Captain Lipscomb made the arrest.

SAW A NOISE.
A small boy ran into the station-house about 9 o'clock last night and said he "saw a noise". Policeman Moore heard the noise, too, and ran up the street.

There was plenty of excitement, and it was learned that some one had fired a gun in an alley off Hull Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets. Every effort to locate the "shooter" was unsuccessful.

PRETTY INFANT.
Colonel William Allen, superintendent of the Almshouse, has at his disposal a pretty, healthy baby boy, about three weeks old. He would be glad to have some good family adopt the baby. The mother is from a respectable family and has three other children.

Owing to circumstances, she will agree to let the child go into good hands. Colonel Allen would be glad to give any further information desired.

SILVER TEA TO-NIGHT.
The ladies of the Sanctuary Society of Sacred Heart Church will give a silver tea and concert at the exchequer, Fourth and Perry Streets, to-night. A fine menu will be spread, and the programme will be made up of musical selections by Miss Gertrude Allen, Miss Alice McGowan, Colonel Allen and others. A pleasant time is guaranteed everybody.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.
A meeting of the Health Committee will be held at 8 o'clock this evening.

The Buildings and Land Committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock, and the Ordinance Committee will meet at 8 o'clock.

The Finance Committee will assemble to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

A regular meeting of the Almshouse Committee was held last night and routine business done.

PERSONAL AND NOTES.
Mr. George B. Wise has been retained to assist in the prosecution of Ernest Brooks at Chestfield Courthouse this term.

Mr. and Mrs. John Latham celebrated the first anniversary of their marriage last night. A number of friends were present, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Mr. Floyd Jenkins has gone to Boston on a business trip.

Officers of the Ladies' Aid Society of Ashbury Church have been chosen as follows: Mrs. V. V. Vail, president; Mrs. C. E. Blankenship, vice-president; Mrs. Rosa Walshall, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Purdie, treasurer.

BLEW AND BLEW.
Hundreds Were Attracted by a Locomotive Whistle.

The people of Fulton were attracted to the Orleans-Street crossing of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock by the continued blowing of the whistle of a locomotive of the Chesapeake and Ohio. The long, continued, monotonous and uninterrupted blast of the whistle was mistaken by many to be the Cedar Works whistle and created the impression that a fire was raging there or that some other calamity was impending. It turned out that a valve on the locomotive became out of order, in some way, and could not be closed, and there was nothing to do but let the blowing continue until the steam was exhausted. Before the thirty or forty minutes of the noise expired a crowd of several hundred people had congregated. As soon as the steam was exhausted the trouble was remedied.

About a year or more ago a similar whistling occurred at the Second-Street round-house, of the Chesapeake and Ohio. In that case the whistle was jammed against a door opening in the round-house and could not be stopped until the ponderous machine was released.

Miss Minnie Kronenberg, of Carlisle, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. Leiber, No. 106 West Grace Street.

The treasurer reported $138 received for State development.

Miss Mary I. Orvis, the field secretary, reported 3,600 miles traveled, 8 auxiliaries organized, subscriptions secured to the C. W. B. M. organ and the State medium, the Christian Monthly, much distribution of tracts, and the work of the National Convention attended. This report was most excellent and was presented in a most pleasing manner.

The report of the superintendent of Young People's Work was as follows: Numbers of members, 117; new members, 25; number of conversions, 51; contributions, $75.00.

CHILDREN'S WORK.
Mrs. McArdle's paper on Children's Work was appropriate and full of good lessons for mothers.

The banner for the best work among the young people was given to South-eastern District.

The banner given by the National Board of Christian Work, which contributed the largest amount for young people's work was awarded to Virginia. This banner was sent from the Detroit Convention and was exhibited at this afternoon session.

The reports of the senior societies in all the districts were encouraging.

Professor Forrest spoke of his work, stating that the classes are composed exclusively of the students, about forty of whom are now enrolled.

This closed the first session of this body.

At 8 o'clock P. M. the convention re-assembled. Devotions were led by Rev. B. H. Melton, of Marshall-Street Church, Richmond.

A telegram was prepared and sent to Rev. Carey E. Morgan, the former pastor of the Seventh-Street Church, who is ill at his home in Paris, Ky. Prayer was also offered in behalf of Mr. Morgan and his family.

PROFESSOR FORREST'S ADDRESS.
The address of the afternoon session was delivered by Professor W. M. Forrest.

Professor Forrest spoke first of some of the work done by the organization known as the Christian Woman's Board of Missions in the United States and in foreign lands, and of the work which has been accomplished during the past year.

His real theme, however, was "India's Hurt!" apropos of the words of a veteran missionary, "It hurts so to live in India."

The long voyage, the landing upon a strange shore, the life of isolation, the privation, the separation from kindred, the homesickness, the climate, the heat, these are some of the hurts for the missionary in India. Even when the rain comes the dry heat is only exchanged for steamy heat, so trying and enervating that many prefer the furnace-like heat of the dry season.

Then, said he, there are the terrible ravages of diseases, leprosy, cholera, etc. The effects of these things, while many escape them, one may well imagine, add to the suffering of those who stand upon the firing line.

Especially do the women and the children suffer. The latter, the unconscious martyrs, whose suffering and death are having their influence in bringing souls to Christ.

There are, however, many happy hours and experiences in the lives of the missionaries. But I would have you think of the hurt of the people of India. It hurts to live where suffering and hardship are the common lot. There is some part of India always in famine. The bubonic plague claims millions of victims. It is a poor country. A country, too, where every man's hand seems against his brother-man.

Then think of the inhumanity to woman, the higher castes kept in the zenana, the lower castes, the burden bearers, the slaves.

The religious status of the people was next spoken of, the idolatry, the crushing out of even a semblance of spirituality, the mistaken zeal, the hopelessness.

INHUMAN CUSTOMS.
Allied with their religion are inhuman customs, which torture the people. Castes, which prohibit a man's rising to better things. He gave illustrations of the inhumanity these customs provoke. Then, when one by one these people decide to enter the new life as revealed to them by the missionaries, how terrible are the persecutions they have to endure.

Inflicted. A mother will even poison her son rather than let him become a Christian.

Though it hurts to live in India, it is a divine thing to suffer for others. Some of the missionaries, like his Master, shall not the travail of his soul and be satisfied.

What the Gospel has done for America it can do for India. May the Lord so fill us with his spirit that we may count it a joy to suffer for him and his cause.

At the close of Professor Forrest's address, the audience sang with spirit the old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

An offering was then taken for State development, announcements were made, after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. G. Johnson, of Roanoke.

ANOTHER REPUBLIC

agents of the government point to the ultimate success of the revolution.

"You will protect American interests at all points and do everything possible to avoid bloodshed," is the substance of the instructions cabled by the Navy Department at the instance of the State Department to the naval commanders now at the Isthmus or on their way.

The last part of the instructions is particularly significant, for it forecasts a more active intervention by the United States government in the troubles on the Isthmus than has perhaps ever before been displayed. With the Atlanta, Dixie and Nashville, there will be a naval force on the gulf side of the Isthmus sufficient to take temporary possession of the Panama Canal.

The presence of the 400 Colombian government troops at Colon makes the situation there at present more difficult than on the Panama side.

It will probably oblige the United States to take temporary possession of the railway, as traffic cannot be maintained with one end of the line in possession of the government forces and the other in the hands of the revolutionists.

The effect of such action by the United States would be to prevent the movement of any body of troops carrying arms from one side of the Isthmus to the other.

Some cabled inquiries have come to the State Department from men who stand very high in the business world of Panama, asking if the United States government would extend recognition to the new state if the present movement was successful. The inquiries did not come in such form as to justify an official answer, but it is stated that it is not the policy of this government to commit itself in such cases. The invariable rule is to recognize de facto conditions, and if the United States government is to recognize the new state of Panama, it must be on the basis of the fact that there is an actual working government in possession of the Isthmus which will be allowed to do business with it.
